

The Divine Qualities as Pathways for Self-Realization

A retreat in Kansas City, Friday evening through Saturday afternoon November 4 and 5, 2011

Murshid Wali Ali Meyer was the live-in assistant and esoteric secretary to Murshid Samuel L. Lewis. He is now the director of the Esoteric School of the Sufi Ruhaniat International. His work is to help those who are called to the spiritual path to awaken to the true nature of their soul. His just published work “Physicians of the Heart—A Sufi View of the 99 Names of Allah” is a multifaceted and deep exploration of the mystical and psychological qualities of the Divine Names. It was the result of a ten-year spiritual conversation between Imam Bilal Hyde, Faisal Muqaddam, Pir Shabda Kahn and himself.

Drawing from this work, Wali Ali will lead us in contemplative inner work with wazifah in order to discover our soul’s birthright of perfection and to explore skillful techniques to overcome our separation and disconnection from the innate God reality. Walking concentrations, Dance, and small group work will be a part of our process. This retreat is open to all seekers on the path.

Location

Workshop sessions will be held at the 3HO Ashram, 3525 Walnut, Kansas City MO, which is located just north of the Plaza in the Midtown area.
